There is fear felt that the elder woman has done away with herself. Mrs. Pearson has for some time been slightly unbalanced mentally. She has considerable money, and mentally. She has considerable money, and for this reason her condition was reported to the Probate Court, it being claimed that she was unable to attend to her own affairs. She learned of this and it grieved her. All night, at times, she paced the floor of her room cryling.

oom, crying: "Oh, Lord, don't let them take away my money."

Saturday morning a deputy of the court appeared at the Grand avenue residence and served a summons upon Mrs. Pearson and daughter to appear before the Probate Court. She cried herself into hysterics over the matter, but later became calm and went to her room. When the supper hour came the maid of the house found her apartment deserted.

came the maid of the house found her apartment deserted.

All of her clothing, and that of her daughter, even their hats, were in their usual places. Sunday and Monday passed and then her relatives were notified. It was supposed she was visiting friends and Mr. Brittain inserted the following advertisement in last Wednesday's papers:

WANTED—The address of Theresa Pearson and daughter is greatly desired. S. J. Brittsin, Hotel Barnum.

WANTED—The address of Theresa Pearson and daughter is greatly desired. S. J. Brittsin, Hotel Barnum.

There is something of a story in connection with the missing women. Mrs. Pearson's dementia was of a religious turn at first. She has quite a fortune at her command, left by her deceased husband, and after a time her delusions changed to monetary matters. She has been continually afraid she would lose all. Her daughter, a thin, weak woman of 30 years, has been subject to epileptic fits, and through this and a hypnotic influence possessed by her mother, she gradually became of weaker will when in conjunction with her mother. Mrs. Pearson observed all the fast days in the religious calendar and made her daughter observe many additional. When the mother wished her to carry out some wild idea she did so, despite the protests of Mrs. S. Moore, proprietress of the boarding-house. For two months last winter both women refused to wear shoes. The result was a sick bed for both.

Miss Pearson for a time refused to partake of any food, and, as Dr. Bauduy put it, was slowly starving to death. Mrs. Moore said she was afraid to disobey her mother. Lately the elder Mrs. Pearson has become unmanageable and Mrs. Mooreset about notifying her relatives. They her." he said.

"It more than worries me. I can't imagine where they could have gone without taking their clothes with them. I have hunted high and low among her friends. I have visited the Union Station, but learned nothing. The fact that the elder Mrs. Pearson was not of sound mind adds to the seriousness of the affair.

"I will remain here until I get some tidings of them."

"I will remain here until I get some tidings of them."

Mr. Brittain claimed to be ignorant of the proposed proceedings in the Probate Court. At the residence of Mrs. Moore the bearders were still gossiping about the mysterious disappearance. The house is a magnificent stone front structure elegantly furnished. Mrs. Moore said that she had known Mrs. Pearson for years.

"I believe she is hiding in some Catholic convent," said she. "Mrs. Pearson is mentally a total wreck. In her crazy fits she would imagine she addressed her husband, who, in his time, was a well-known steamboat captain, deceased thirty years.

"She had a marked influence over her daughter, especially as to eating. She requested her daughter to stop eating until mentally. Dr. Bauduy attended both frequently, I told him I could not care for them any longer on account of my guests in the house. He advised me to inform their relatives. I did and upon receiving mo response complained to the Probate Court. I do not think the women did away with themselves, but believe they are hiding."

Mrs. Pearson kept her ready money deposited at the State and Boatman's Banks.

but has not been seen in the place since last Friday.

Mr. Brittain says he received a letter from Mrs. Pearson Saturday which caused him to worry as to her safety. The missing woman is of slight build, 69 years of age, white hair, and dresses in black. Her daughter is very tall, very slim, with brown hair. She was also attired in black.

F. L. Haydel of the realty firm of Haydel & Son, informed a Post-Dispatch reporter that the inquiry to determine Mrs. Pearson's sanity would be tried in the Probate Court Friday afternoon, despite the fact that the woman is missing.

"It is to her own interest that a guardian be appointed to take care of her money and property," said he.

"Isn't it true that you will apply for that position?" was asked.

"Her friends desire me to take it. I have been hadding a great deal of her property was asked.

"What is the extent of her wealth?"

"I don't know. No one knows by therated in hank stocks. She has also fat the denoils in the State and Boutment's Banks. She has great confidence in banks.

"There is no fear of her not being able to hold on to her money, but the fact of her powerful influence over her daughter, whose name is Sallie, and also that she is slowly dying from want of food and proper nourishment, which the mother is determined she shall not have, makes it important that Mrs. Pearson be attended to.

"I have known her for years. She was an impressing, intelligent, woman. Five years ago her aged father died suddenly in Philadelphia. The fact that she did not get to see him before he was dead weighed on her mind, and gradually she became unbalanced."

Dr. Keating Banduw will testify to Mrs.

James Murray was tried and convicted of murder in the first degree in the Circuit Court at Clayton on May 23, 1894. Edward Murray obtained a change of venue to Herrmann, Mo., and was tried and convicted on Sept. 12, 1894. LEXINGTON, Ky., May 10.-Volney Beard, single, aged 32 years, was shot and killed at 7 o'clock to-day by Albert C. Hall, a corner grocery man, for whom Beard for merly clerked. Several weeks ago Hall it is alleged, discovered illicit relations be-tween his wife and Beard and discharged the latter. This morning Hall sent for Beard, and in the presence of Mrs. Hall put on his hat and started for the door when Beard atempted to restrain him. A terrific struggle ensued, in which Hall pulled a pistol and shot Beard fatally. Hall was arrested, and his wife voluntar-ily accompanied him to the jail. The two men were cousins.

She insisted that they should be ready for her without fail, as she would not have time to wait for them to be builded when she called by in the morning. Thursday morning she left home at the usual hour, for school, as her parents thought, but the majden was otherwise inclined. She dropped in at Blum's, got her package of tollet articles, then joined her sweetheart and the elopement ensued.

When she failed to return from school nothing was thought of the matter, as her family inferred she was visiting friends. When supper time came and Miss Ophelia was still missing the family grew nervous and the young lady's brothers were dispatched in all directions to look her up. Not finding her, Mr. Scharff packed off to Chief Harrigan and reported the matter.

Later came a dispatch from Chief of Police Maloney of Springfield, Ill., saying that Miss Ophelia Scharff of St. Louis had been married to Mr. Ulyses S. Altheimer, the son of a wealthy planter of Pine Bluff, Ark. The parties gave their ages to the County Clerk as 24 and 18 respectively. When Mr. Scharff heard the news he asked the Chief to wire for their arrest, as his daughter is only 16 and her husband is.

It was too late to apprehend the pair in Springfield, as they had left for Chieago before the telegram arrived.

It is understood that Mr. Scharff was very much opposed to the union, as he does not consider Mr. Altheimer a desirable parti.

The murder and suicide was due to love. Tepper is a married man and lives at 33 Noble street with his wife and family. He was desperately in love with the Herhold girl, but his advances were coldly received. The girl came from Germany about a year ago and went to live with the Tepper family as a servant. Tepper's attentions became so annoying to her that she left her place about a month ago. Tepper's annoyance of the girl did not cesse, and the latter part of last week she went before a magistrate and swore out a warrant for his arrest. She had no money to pay for the warrant and Tepper continued to annoy her. Miss Herhold, who was a tailoress, left her room about 5 o'clock this morning to go for work which she was to take home. On her way back Tepper met her at Seventh and Noble streets. The couple talked earnestly for a few minutes and the girl started to move away from him. She had gone but a few steps when Tepper produced a 35-califor revolver, and, pointing it at her stomach, fired. The girl fell to the sidewalk and while she was lying there Tepper again fired. Both bullets took effect in her side. After assuring himself that his victim was beyond human aid he coolly placed the revolver to his right temple and pulled the trigger. The man dropped dead on the pavement within ten feet of the girl.

Miss Herhold was taken to a hospital, but died within ten minutes after being admitted there. Tepper's body was taken to his former home, but his wife refused to receive it and it was taken to the morgue.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 10.—The conference committee on the election bill met again this morning. It reached no agreement, and adjourned until Monday af-conference committee on the election bill met again this morning. It reached no agreement, and adjourned until Monday afternoon.

The differences of the committee are now practically over two points, the commission and the difference in the expense of the two bills. The friends of the Filley bill are insisting that the commission should be permanent and draw pay for the entire year at $3,000 a year for the principal commissioner and $3,000 for the two associates, while advocates of the Safety Committee bill insist that the appointment of associate commissioners six months before the elections at a compensation of $30 per day for the time they serve, is all that is necessary.

But the most serious point of difference is expanse, and that seems to have been generally overlooked. Under the Filley bill it is estimated it will cost the people of $t. Louis over $30,000 to hold an election. The $2,000 judges and clerks for seven days at $4 a day will run the primary cost up to $56,000. The salary of the commissioners will be $3,000 a year; printing and stationery will add $12,000 or $13,000 to say mothing of the salary of the chief clerk, the erection of booths and the extra help which will be necessary.

The Safety Committee bill makes the pay of the judges and clerks $3 a day, a difference in the salaries of the commissioners, and altogether it is estimated that the Safety Committee bill will save the people of $t. Louis at least $5 per cent in the cost of elections, and give them better safeguards around registration and the ballot box than the Filley bill.

This is the point that the conference committee is wrestling with now. It is said that the method of appointment of the commission can be agreed upon, but friends of the Safety Committee bill are unwilling to pay a permanent commission $3,000 per year when they will not have six months' real work in two years.

There is little chance for a report until Tuesday.

Special Fellow-Servant Bill.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 10.—The visit of the general solicitors of the Wabash, Missouri Pacific and Burlington roads was the cause of more speculation and wild-eyed rumors than any event of the special session. They had a talk during the afternoon with Senators Baskett. Teater, Madison, McClintie and Gast, five of the Senators who are making the fight for a special bill, and immediately the quid nunes at the Capitol building were rushing around with stories of a deal by which the committee bill was to be ahandoned, and a substitute prepared by the general solid-tors and the majority of the Labor Committee passed. Everybody had a theory, and each one was the only correct one. As a matter of fact the senators who have been making a fight for a special bill have no intention of abandoning it. They say that as the heads of the legal departments came here openly and asked for a conference it was right and proper to listen to them, but their ideas on fellow-servant legislation have not changed in the least.

bogus Pass Investigating Committee has finally been heard from.

In the House this morning the Schooler resolution requesting a report was called up, and promptly declared defeated by Orderly Sergeant Russell. Then Hammond of Kansas City, the Chairman of the committee, who rides on pass himself, made a report. The report rates simply that no charges had been filed before the committee, and therefore it could do nothing. It winds up with this piece of buncombe:

"And your committee publicly invited and urgently requested any State officers or any members of the House having knowledge that any State officer or member of this House has procured or received for himself. or others, any such free transportation, to file charges to that effect in writing, with the chairman of said committee."

This winds up the pass investigating farce, and nothing more will be heard from the committee appointed by Phelps under the resolution written by Orderly Sergeant Russell. Hammond, the chairman of the committee, rides on a pass No. F 32, and the entire committee, with the exception of Bothwell, belongs to Phelps. If the committee wants to investigate itself let it start on Hammond.

The combine gang wanted to force an adjournment at once, but the conservatives opposed it so vigorously that it also was laid over. were to speak one-half hour each, after which Mr. Meriwether would come in with an hour's talk and Mr. Eachritz would close in one and a half hours.

Mr. Booth arose accordingly and began his remarks. He had not finished his figst sentence when Duestrow, whose face was flushed and his manner nervous, was seen to lean over and speak with Gov. Johnson. In response to his whispering Gov. Johnson arose to his feet and stated his client requested to be allowed to leave the courtroom during the arguments. There was a murmur of surprise all through the courtroom at what seemed such strong evidence from the defendant that he thoroughly appreciated his surroundings.

Judge Hirsel consented to the request, Mr. Zachritz making no objection. Mr. Booth then went on with his remarks.

The first portion of the speaker's remarks were devoted to the possibilities in the case, the two verdicts being considered. Great stress was laid on the point that, were Duestrow declared insane, he would be sent to an asylum, whence he could be sent to an asylum, whence he could be sent to an asylum, whence he could be sent back to trial at any time upon his recovery. Later he took up Duestrow's actions and argued against the theory of simulation. He secured that the punishment of Duestrow would be a diagrace to civilization. He secured that the sympest of large fees. His remarks were calm and dispassionate, depending for force rather upon logic than upon sloquence.

Mr. Booth overstepped his allotted time a little, so that it was almost il o'clock before Mr. Booth began his speech. He characterised Mr. Booth's piea as one for mercy. His was in the nature of a cry for justice. He reverted persistently to the orime. He declared positively that the opinions of the experts for the defense were warped by the size of their feez. He vigorously scored the defense for its attitude towards Hansmann. He argued that the testimony arrayed against him came only as a result of the factional fight in the Willing Workers. Bolts denounced the offer of the defense to allow the jury to take Duestrow into the juryroom as a biuff made solely for effect on the jury. They were afreid to put him on the stand. In closing Mr. Bolts said that if the jury declared Duestrow insane that the verdict would be introduced at the murder trial if such an event happened and justice would be defeated.

VENUE CHANGES AGAIN.

Of Seven Election Cases Six Go Out of the City.

of the Criminal Court Friday affidavits for change of venue were filed. Judge Henry T. Kent, representing the Citizens' Safety Committee, was not surprised at what he

Committee, was not surprised at what he termed a maneuver for delay.

All the applications save one were granted, the new change of yenue law not yet having gone into effect.

There were two charges against William P. Cahill, one of fraudulent voting in precinct one of the Third Ward, and one of perfury, growing out of the charge of bribery against Sheriff Troll, which was knocked out in the Criminal Court sometime ago. Lawyer Ben Clark presented the affidavits in these cases first.

"This is entirely irregular," objected Attorney Bishop. "The affidavit falls even to state that the information of prejudice came to the defendant after the last continuance."

Mr. Clark intimated that this could be easily remedied.
"Besides" resumed Mr. Bishop, "one of asily remedied.

"Besides," resumed Mr. Bishop, "one of the witnesses to the application, Ed Boyce, is, I think, an ex-convict, having been convicted of petit larceny in this court, and besides is now under a charge of fraudulent voting right here. I think it's the same woting right here. I think it's the same man."

Mr. Clark did not see how this, even if true, would affect the matter, and Judge Edmunds agreed with him.

"I can't see how that question makes any difference. All affidavit-makers for changes of venue are about alike. It doesn't make any difference whether they are ex-convicts or not; whether they have been in the Penitentiary or are to be."

Judge Kent applauded these remarks with a broad smile. Mr. Clark did not seem to know whether to look pleased or grieved, and Mr. Bishop murmured: "That's about right."

"There is still the objection that this affi-davit is not in proper form," persisted Mr.

Bishop.
"Til have it amended," said Mr. Clark.
Judge Kent said he did not see how an affidavit could be amended, but Mr. Clark said he would have it re-sworn to and would do the same in all the other cases, as the affidavits were all alike. The other witness in the Cahill case was James Mack. The applications were purely formal. Both applications were purely formal. Both cases against Cahill were sent to St. Charles County.

The other cases were against Joseph T. Quinn, charged as judge in precinct 2, Ward I, with ballot-box stuffing. Witnesses Gus Theis and James Mack; John Fickler, judge, precinct 114, Ward 9, witnesses, Gus Theis and Albert Gross; Geo. P. Flaherty, judge, same precinct, witnesses Richard Murray and John Sullivan Toseph E. March, judge same precinct, witnesses Richard S. Murray, judge same precinct, witnesses Richard S. Murray and F. J. Campbell; Edw. J. Murphy, judge same precinct, witnesses, John Sullivan and Joseph N. Conboy; and Pat O'Donnell, fraud in precinct 1, and perjury in the Troil case. All these cases save O'Donnell's were sent to Greene County. O'Donnell's was laid over until Thursday two weeks hence.

"Are the witnesses the same in all these cases?" queried Judge Kent.

"Well, now, that's rubbing it in," retorted Mr. Clark.

And so the matter ended. And so the matter ended.

JUDGE VINCENT'S ERROR.

Blunder Made in His Decision on the Unit of Value. CHICAGO, Ill., May 10 .- W. H. Harvey cHicago, ill., May 10.—W. H. Harvey, author of "Coin," has this to say in regard to Judge Vincent's decision on the unit of value from 1792 to 1873:

"As I read the decision, I read a farce. Mr. Vincent quotes Hamilton's report, and argues that Congress adopted it, and uses this as the basis of his decision, when, in fact, Congress 'turned Hamilton down.' Here is what Hamilton recommended. I now quote from his report before me:

OFFICER SMITH SUSPENDED.

He was coming down the incline on Delmar boulevard when he collided with a wagon that turned in sharply from Sarah street. Both team and bicycle were moving very fast when the machine collided with the team. The boy was thrown under the horses' feet.

The sharp hoofs of the heavy animals crushed in his skull and stamped the life out of his body. The accident was witnessed by a number of residents of the vicinity and kind hands were quickly at work trying to bring sid.

The little fellow was brought to his residence near by, 4048 Delmar avenue, where his frantic family sent for medical assistance. Before the doctors arrived the little fellow was dead. In fact, life was extinct before he was taken from under the horses' hoofs.

till Petie Welch came along and hollered at him."

Petie was not at home this morning, but his mother said he had told her that Charlie Majors' story was absolutely true.

Although Smith's alleged offense was committed three months ago, it was not reported to Capt. Kiely until last night. Then he sent for Majors, Walsh, Spreen and the other boys, and on the strength of their statements suspended Smith. He also drew up charges of immorality which will be heard by the Police Board next Tuesday.

Smith denies the charges. He told Capt. Kiely there is not a word of truth in them. Smith is a smooth-faced young man of 25. He has been a policeman four years and has had a rather interesting career. He was before the board for maltreating a prisoner. Last July he was transferred from the Sixth to the Fourth after being fined 225 for general inefficiency. He lives at 425 Farrar street.

FRED SCULLIN BETTER.

Dr. Brokaw More Hopeful Now of His Patient's Recovery.

perienced all day Thursday has subsided. His right hip and groin are terribly bruised where the buggy shaft struck him. He can not move and will remain at Dr. Brokaw's until he is recovered sufficiently to make the journey to his home on the Bluffs.

Mr. Scullin's recollection of the accident was quite clear after the pain subsided. He said that the tandem was in very bad order, as the handle bars refused to work well and made steering very difficult. On this account he and Miss Plant gave up their trip and he left the young lady at home about 10 o'clock. He then went to Grand avenue and Olive street, where he met a number of young gentlemen friends, with whom he remained for several hours. He denies emphatically that there was a lady with him when he stopped at Bart's, about 1 o'clock. Young Charless Cabanne and he were riding about the neighborhood at the time and stopped there on the curbstone and had a bottle of wine. After leaving his friends on Grand avenue he rode over to Lindell and down towards the Mound City cab office. As it was late he rode at full speed. The wag-on that turned in and caused the collision was a two-seated democrat. There were two persons on the front and three on the rear seat, all colored. They made no attempt to pull out of the way. He turned the machine, but owing to the stiffness of the handle bars he could not swing out far enough. He had all but cleared the vehicle when the shaft caught him. It broke his right hand hold on the bar, struck him on the hip and glancing up, caught him full force on the groin, lifting him clear off the machine. He was knocked unconscious and when he came to the street was deserted.

Committee Now Ready to Make Arrangements for Plowing.

THE DETROIT PLAN.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 10.-At to- be found at Room 503, Fagin Building

The committee prefer to give this work to men who are at present out of employment. It is necessary to furnish the teams and the work must be done promptly under the supervision of the committee's superintendent.

The committee now calls for more vacant ground outside of the central districts, and adapted to dumediate plowing and cultivation. Some of the lots offered the committee cannot be used this season, because they cannot be prepared for cultivation in the short time now remaining before the planting season is over. Lots which are fenced, and which are near water mains are preferred. Agents and owners of such property will confer a great favor on the committee by communicating with the secretary at once, or with Mr. Fairback, chairman, at Mechanics' Exchange.

A BEAN IN HER NOSE.

The 3-Year-Old Child of Prof. Quinn Meets With a Peculiar Accident.

Annie, the pretty 3-year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. John B. Quinn, living at 2630 Caroline street, fell a victim of a peculiar accident Thursday evening.

While playing she pushed a small bean up her nose and it became fastened in the nostril. The child was badly frightened and be-tril. The child was badly frightened and began to cry.

It was more or less painful and to this together with the fright almost drove her into spasms. She became almost frantic with every effort to remove the obstruction. Prof. Quinn took her to the drug store at Jefferson and Park avenues, but the child would not remain quiet iong enough to permit the druggist to remove the bean.

She was finally taken to the Marion Simms Hospital where she was placed under the influence of chloroform. Accidents of this kind frequently happen and parents are at a loss to know what to do. If the obstruction is not too large it can be pushed further in, when it will drop down into the mouth.

INVENTOR LUCAS IS DEAD.

His Last Days Spent in a Padded Cell of the Insane Ward.

Death never did a kinder, sweeter, more fitting thing than when she closed the eyelids of Inventor Andrew H. Lucas at the City Hospital at 6:30 o'clock Friday morn-

His hopes, his ambitions, his dreams, the inspiration that made him work unceasingly for ten years it the face of bitter disappointments, all cied together two months ago, when the patent on his invention, the Lucas ship, was mortgaged and sold. It was his life vork, the culmination of years of study and inventive genius. Since the Lucas patent passed from the Mississippi River and Ocean Navigation Co., the original Lucas ship company, to the Lucas Navigation Co., the inventor has led a living death. He has been in the world, but not of it. The sheek paralysed his sensibilities. He was like a man in a dream. He recognized no one, could not speak intelligently, and passed his days in a prolonged stupor, alternating with fits of violence.

flats at 925 North Broadway. That is the primary reason that Mrs. McCoy was in the Court of Criminal Correction on a charge of assault and battery, with Mrs. Byrnes as the prosecuting witness. It appeared from the law and the evidence that Mrs. Byrnes about a week ago had occasion to empty a bucket of water over the banisters of her porch in the rear of the flat.

It was Mrs. McCoy's misfortune to be leaning over the banister of her own porch in a position most favorable to receiving the deluge down the back of her neck. When Mrs. Byrnes' little girl came pattering down the back steps a few moments later, Mrs. McCoy, according to witnesses, greeted her with sarcastic remarks calculated to arouse the ire of any parent, and Mrs. Byrnes, who was listening, immediately came down stairs to show her resentment.

AN INSOLENT OFFER. If it be true that General Solicit Blodgett of the Wabash, General Solicitor Cochran of the Missouri Pacific and General Solicitor Spencer of the Burlington have made a proposition to Gov. Stone to break the deadlock in the Legislature if he will send a message authorizing the passage of a general fellowservant bill with insurance features, what does it mean? It means an admission by the railroads that they have the power to control legislation. It means that this one interest, created by the State, holds enough legislators at its beck and call to say what laws shall and what laws shall not be passed. It is able to dictate to the Legislature the terms of the legislation it shall adopt and to say to the Governor that he shall recommend certain measures or his recommendation will be disregarded. The railroads offer to treat with the representatives of the people as a sovereign power whose consent to laws must be gained. The offer is the acme of insolence.

acceptance of the proposition, which involves a surrender of all for which the Governor and the friends of honest legislation have been fighting, would settle the fellow-servant question for the time being. But it would emphasize that other and larger issue which embraces the fellow-servant and every question of railroad legislation, "Shall the railroads or the people rule Mis-

Moreover the offer of the railroad solicitors, as outlined to the committee last night, is the kind of compromise that the lion offered to the lamb. The right of suing for damages which it would grant is closely hedged in, and the proviso added to the first section would put into the hands of the railroad companies precisely the club they have long wanted with which to beat into submission the Labor organizations. It would be imbecile treachery to accept this offer. The Labor organizations should promptly make themselves heard on the subject.

THE CODE VINDICATED.

In discharging from custody Fulton Gordon, who slew his wife and her paramour, Police Judge Thompson of Louis ville said he had carefully examined the authorities and in his deliberate opinion the accused "is not only not guilty in law, but his action will teach adulterers that when they ply their nefarious calling they are standing upon a precipice from which they are in danger of being dashed at any moment."

The intelligent public will find equal cause for wonder in the inspiration which led Judge Thompson to designate adultery as a "nefarious calling," as in the course of reasoning which induced him to vindicate under the law a resort to personal vengeance as a means of right-murder was dropped under even more illeges and exemptions are extraordinary circumstances than in this the State. They have never yet been held to be private or confidential.

The judge followed with a request for the appointment of a substitute, because he could not conscientiously hear the case. "The prisoner asked me what to do about it," he explained, "and I told him to put two loads of buckshot into the scoundrel." The bar to a man refused to serve in either place and the prisoner was discharged.

After a most careful investigation, exending over more than a month and mbracing every field of newspaper cirulation in the city and out, the con ductors of the Post-Dispatch are satisfied that the Post-Dispatch has a reg-ular bona fide circulation, Daily and Sunday, materially larger than that of any other St. Louis newspaper, morning or evening, and that its circulation in the city of St. Louis is at least 50 per cent greater than that of any other St. Louis newspaper.

When newspapers are printed in re-sponse to a bona fide demand they do not vanish into thin air or disappear in other mysterious ways. They go into the hands of readers, and these readers can easily be found. As a rule, the observant citizen has only to look around him with open eyes in order to form an accurate opinion of the relative circulation of the newspapers in his own field. Newspaper readers are the men and women whom he meets in the course of business, sees on the cars or in the hotels, or comes in contact with among his neighbors. It is practically certain that the newspaper that is most read by a man's business associates, by his employes and friends, by his neighbors, and which he sees most frequently read on the cars, in the hotels and in other places where newspaper readers may be observed, is the newspaper that is most widely read in the community in which he lives.

The tests which he can thus apply for himself are far more trustworthy than any others. In applying them he cannot be the victim of deception or misrepre

No man who looks around him with open mind and open eyes will have the slightest doubt, at the end of a week's observation, that the claim that the Post-Dispatch has a circulation far larger than that of any other St. Louis news paper is true.

TO WHAT END!

There is no greater puzzle or more pathetic aspect of life than the progress of society over the wrecks of the individual.

Here is the sad case of Andrew H. Lucas, inventor of the Lucas ship. Mr. Lucas spent years of hard labor working out the problem of the center-board or movable keel applied to large vessels for use in both ocean and river navigation. He then spent years trying to convince capitalists that his idea was feasible and that there was "money in it." But even with the indorsement of practical shipbuilders his progress was slow, and worn by worry and fear of losing the reward of his labor, his mind failed and his death at the City Hospital is announced to-day.

The Lucas ship has never been given a practical test, but the invention seems good and if it proves so will overcome great obstacles in trade between river and ocean ports and in freight delivery in ports with bad harbors. It is highly probable that his plan or of it will be accepted and put to profitable use. In this case society will be benefited and others will reap reward for labor which brought the inventor to despair, insanity and death. Every attempt to explain it ends in an interrogation point.

THE BURLINGTON ASSESSMENT.

No attorneys have in the past been more persistent at Jefferson City than those of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy system in this State. Beginning with Judge Wilson of Iowa and ending with Col. John H. Carroll of Missouri, who is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, the lawyers of the Burlington have had more to do with legislation in Missouri than the voters would imagine.

In the estimation of a majority of the people the Burlington is a railroad somewhere up in Iowa, but as a matter of fact it begins at St. Louis and runs in every direction, north, east and west.

The principal line in this State belonging to the Burlington system is the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern, 133 miles in length, running from the city of St. Louis to the city of Keokuk, and affording the one outlet for the system in this State. According to the estimate made by the State Board of Railroad Commission upon reports made to them by the railoads themselves, the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern cost $73,026 a mile, or a tal of $12,885,471 in this State.

The State Board of Equalization last year had this same road under consideration, among others, and valued it for taxable purposes at $8,548 a mile, or about one-ninth of its actual value.

Why should the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern be assessed at only one-ninth of its actual value when farm land is assessed at one-third?

The State Constitution declares that values shall be comparatively equal. Is that an equality which gives to the Burlington system so small an asses as compared with farm lands? THE PRIVACY OF CORPORATIONS.

Mr. Frank H. Cooper, a merchant prince of Chicago, is defying the State Senate of Illinois upon the ground that he wants to "settle the question as to how far the Legislature can investigate the private affairs of a corporation."

This raises a question of great interes

The trouble is that corporations every-where have come to believe that although they are the creatures of the State, they are also private copartnerships, and that the people who gave them special priv-fléges in the transaction of business have no right to know anything about that business. Here in Missouri the law re-quires every corporation to make annual reports to the State concerning its condition, and the inquiries are such as compel an intelligent insight into the business Maybe Mr. Cooper is able to show that he public institution in which he holds stock is a strictly private affair. Senator Cockrell does well to recall the words of Daniel Webster, the greatest of constitutional lawyers, on the standard of value in this country. Said

Mr. Webster: I am clearly of opinion that gold and silver at rates fixed by Congress constitute the legal standard of value in this country and that neither Congress nor any State has authority to establish any other stand-

DELAWARE SENATORSHI

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The which the Delaware Senatorshi

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The condition in which the Delaware Senatorship was left by the adjournment of the Legislature of that State yesterday is regarded with special interest in Senatorial circles. It is believed that the case will present some aspects that are unique in the history of the Senate. It is held by some persons that the outcome of the contest may prevent the organization of the Senate by the Republicans at the beginning of the next session. The Delaware question would be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, of which Senator Gray of Delaware is now Chairman. In case of a purely partisan contest the control of this committee might be of high importance to the Democrats.

Senator Morgan of Alabama, in discussing the question said:

"The action of the Governor in the premises will be of importance in determining the course of the Senate when the question of seating Mr. Dupont shall come up for consideration. The jaw requires a certificate of election from the Governor, and while I do not feel that I know sufficient of the facts in this case to express a positive opinion, I should say that the presumption would be against a man who should apply to be seated without presenting such evidence of the validity of his claims. I know of but one instance in which the Senate has seated a man in the absence of a certificate of election from the Governor, and that was in the case of Senator Conkling whose certificates failed to arrive on one occasion in time for the organization of the Senate for Gov. Watson to asping in the Senate in for Gov. Watson to asping in the Senate is for Gov. Watson to asping in the Senate is for Gov. Watson to asping in gram saying that the certificate was on the way to Washington.

"The only way in which Delaware Democrats can legitimately secure a hearing in the Senate is for Gov. Watson to appoint a Senator on the theory that the Legislature had adjourned without electing, and this, I presume, he will do. In that event, in all probability, there would be a close contest. I have differed from many of my Democratic colleagues in holding that under such circumstances the Governor of a State had a right to appoint, and that when he did appoint it was the duty of the Senate to seat the appointee. This was the question involved at the beginning of the Fifty-third Gongress in the case of the appointments from Washington, Montana and Wyoming, and I then took a position in favor of seating these men. You will remember, however, that the verdict of the Senate was against them."

The Situation in Delaware.

DOVER, Del., May 10.—The General Assembly of Delaware adjourned sine die without choosing a successor to Senator Higgins, although the Republicans claim that their leading candidate, Col. Henry A. Dupont, was legally elected. The matter will probably be taken to the United States Senate for a decision. The two hundred and twenty-first ballot since the deadlock begun four months ago and the last of session, was taken a few minutes before 3 o'clock yesterday, resulting: 'Henry A. Dupont (Rep.). If: J. Edward Addicks (Rep.). 4: Edward Ridgeley (Dem.), 9: Tennell (Dem.), 1.

The Delaware Legislature is composed of twenty-one Representatives and nine Senators, sixteen being a majority on joint ballot. The Republicans claim that when Watson, by virtue of his position as Speaker of the Senate, succeeded to the Governorship upon the death of Gov. Marvil, one month ago, the number of Senators was reduced to eight and therefore there were only twenty-nine on joint ballot, and that fifteen votes constituted a majority. Whether the Governor has a right to appoint is a disputed question. If he has, the appointment will be only until the next Legislature, which meets in January, 1886, unless sooner called together by the Governor. This latter contingency is not probable, however.

Col. Henry A. Dupont, who will make the contest for the Senatorship, is a member of the famous Dupont family who have been manufacturers of powder and other explosives in Wilmington, this State, for over a century. He is a son of the late Gen. Henry Dupont, and was born at Brandywine Banks in 1836. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and was subsequently appointed to the United States Milliary Addemy at West Point, graduating in 1851. He antered through the Civil War. Dead men, the Commissioner said, have been enrolled as laborers and their names orged to time checks; names have also been duplicated, and residence given where there were vacant lots. All of these facts are now in course of preparation for submission to the legal department of the city for prosecution. It is estimated that a million dollars has been stolen from the city in this manner.

And all other abuses which threaten individual liberty and local self-government."

Missouri Democrats could add greatly to the strength of this growing sentiment by calling a convention to meet in this State and take such steps as are to be taken in Illinois. The time is ripe for a movement of this kind. If a victory is to be won for free silver, there will necessarily have to be a hard fight made for it. The element of time is a great factor in bringing about any great reform. In the battle for free coinage, time will be an important element. Literature must be disseminated among the people. Our position as a State is not less than that of our sister States, and our influence thrown on the side of free coinage at this time would give an impetus to free coinage sentiment that an impetus to free coinage sentiment that could hardly be stayed by any party or power. Let Missouri take this intiatory step and take it at once.

I am a subscriber to your paper through a local agent and enjoy your editorials on silver very much. I want to call your attention to a part of the Democratic platform of 1892, viz.

The nomination of a President, as in the last Republican convention by delegates consisting largely of his appointees, holding office at his pleasure, is a scandalous satire upon free popular institutions and a startling illustration of the methods by which a President may gratify his ambition. We denounce the policy under which Federal officeholders usure control of party conventions in the States, and we pledge the Democratic party to a reform of these and all other abuses which threaten individual liberty and local self-government.

I hotice in the St. Louis Republic's ed of this morning a suggestion of hor coinage may be resumed, with a sur up as follows:

Put the remainder of the white filling over the top of this cake, then another layer of berries. Now place the remaining cake on top of this, press down lightly, dust the top over with powdered sugar, and it is ready for use.

Seasoning Vegetables. Seasoning Vegetables.

Peas and beans, as they are specially lacking in fatty substances, always require butter in their dressing. Indeed, almost all vegetable foods are deficient in fat and would be more digestible if eaten with butter or oil. Cabbage and lettuce, as they contain alkalies, need an acid condiment, while beets, turnips, equash and also beans and peas require the addition of sugar to make up for the sweetness lost in boiling, on the contained in no other way, though salt pork is a fairly good substitute. Onion, used discreetly, is a great addition to many vegetable dishes, especially if prepared in the form of saiads. A tiny bit of chopped onion added to a posto salad, for instance, will make it far more palatable, while lettuce also profits by a few grated shreds of the same vegetable beaten up in French dressing.

Lace in its Cheapness.

Never was lace so cheap nor in greater variety. All the heavy kinds come patterned to cut up to advantage, and such are heartlessly scissored, an air of elegance still attaching to the effect of cut lace patterns applied on cloth and velvet. When used without this extravagant cutting Vandyke lace is preferable since it goes further than any other pattern, because it is not put on full and the points must lie flat. It is, therefore, the favorite pattern for all heavy laces.

Protectionists and Silver. To the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

When the advocates of protection are accused of wanting to help the tariff barons at the expense of the people they say that is merely an incident and that we should not begrudge a few rich manufacturers getting richer. Lo, and behold! these same protectionists are now the loudest in denunciation of the few silver mine owners who would benefit by bimetallism, although in their case it would be more truly incidental to the Editor of The Post-Dispatch.

Besides, this they who were so eager to damage England by high tariffs are now the most anxious to help English gold bugs—and it is all in the interests of the working classes and out of sympathy for the poor people who have so much gold hoarded. Respectfully. Bt. Louis, May 1. CENTIC-AMERICAN.

FINANCIERING IN BRAZIL.

Gold and Paper the Forms of Currency There.

WASHINGTON, May 10.-The Republic o Brazil is having an experience in finance much like that of the United States, but her way of dealing with the subject is dif-ferent. Senor Mendonca, the Brazilian Minferent. Senor Mendonca, the Brazilian Minister here, has been a close student of the recent financial developments in his country. He has received copies of the recent decree-for an international loan of 100,000,000 contos, or 350,000,000. Part of this was taken by the people in the form of a popular loan, much as Senator Sherman urged as the most desirable manner of floating bonds. Of this 310,000,000 was at once used in redeeming paper money, and $15,000,000 more will be used for the same purpose. The important feature of this step is that Brazil has begun to strengthen her gold reserve and reduce her paper money, with a view to bringing her two forms of currency—gold and paper—to an equality. It will not be bimetallism, as Brazil has little silver except for subsidiary coin, but it will inaugurate the unique system of gold and Thus wisdom and experience simplify and condense. Thus the Shakers of Mount Lebanon reasoned when they sought, and finally found, a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. Where one person has something else, they argued, a thousand have this. To cure this alone would almost rid the world of sickness. Why should we vex ourselves with confusing definitions? A good digestion is life and health; a bad one, disease and death. Hence, from the healing and stimulating mountain herbs they extracted the principles which make the Shaker Digestive Cordial the rarest and most effective of medicines for one disease, and one only—indigestion and dyspepsia. and most effective of medicines for one use, and one only—indigestion and dyspepsia. "It is not so much that as it is a determined purpose to restore complete credit to its paper currency," said he. "There is some silver used as subsidiary coin, but not sufficient to give us bimetallism in the sense used in the United States, with gold and silver coined and circulating side by side. With us it is gold and paper, instead of coin and silver, and we expect to make our paper as good as gold."

Senor Mendonca was asked concerning the popular features of the recent loan.

"The Government was careful to give every advantage to the people at large in preference to the bankers," said he: "within three days of the time notice of the loan was given it had been more than taken. The loan was for $50,000,000, but the subscription inside of three days reacted $64,000,000. Of this amount private individuals put in subscriptions amounting to $24,000,000. Instead of asking a pro rata allowance between the individuals and bankers, the Government gave the full $24,000,000 of bonds subscribed by individuals, leaving the banks to take a pro rata amount of the balance.

Senator Cockrell on the Issue.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—In a letter to Senator MoLaurin of Mississippi, Senator Cockrell of Missouri says:

"If there are Democrats who suppose that our party can stand on a platform embodying such a doctrine as the single gold standard, either through its affirmative strength, or through the perlexity of our opponents on the same proposition; or, if there are Democrats who are willing to turn their backs upon their party association in the hape that the single gold standard, under foreign plutocratic dictation, can win a victory without the aid of either party or ganization, it becomes the duty of every Democrat to consider what such a victory would mean, and in the light of a properconception of its result he should deliberately shape its course.

"So doing he will doubtless determine to battle for the restoration and maintenance by our own United States of America (without begging for the permission, consent or co-operation of any foreign, monarchical or kingly power), of a safe and sound currency—honest money—the gold and silver coinage of the Constitution, upon equal terms, with equal rights."

Harrison's Candidacy.

Harrison's Candidacy.

NEW YORK, May 10.—"Ex-President Harrison is as much a candidate for the Presidency as Gov. McKinley, Thomas B. Reed or Senator Allison," said Col. A. L. Conger of Ohio last night in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. "No one has heard Mr. Reed, Gov. McKinley or Senator Allison say he was a candidate, and yet we know their respective States will go to the convention in 1886 solid for them. Indiana will send a delegation solid for the ex-President. I read ex-Gov. Foster's interview saying that Gen. Harrison would prefer not to be a candidate. It is a big thing to refuse to be a nominee for the Presidency, and I notice that Gov. Foster said Gen. Harrison would accept if it became a matter of duty. Well, that puts him among the candidates, for it is a duty for the nominee to accept."

Chicago Bimetallists.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 10.—Advancement was made last night toward the permanent organization of a bimetallist club in this city. The following officers were elected: President, Judge S. P. McConnell; Secretary, M. W. Meagher; Treasurer, Eugene Smith. According to the constitution of the club its object is to "restore the colnage of silver and gold to the relative positions they occupied prior to 1873, without any international agreement." The constitution also specifically sets forth that the club will be non-partisan.

FEARS FOR THE STEAMER.

The Glad Tidings Missing With a Methodist Conference Delegation. VICTORIA, British Columbia, May 10 .-Considerable anxiety is felt by the members of the Methodist Conference now in session here at the non-arrival of the Fort Simpson delegation, which left the North for Victoria ten days ago on the missionary steamer Glad Tidings. The little vessel was seen at Bella Bella by the steamer Bascowitz, which arrived Wednesday. That was a week ago and the day after the Glad Tidings made Namo, fifty miles this side of Bella Bella. Since then nothing has been heard of her, though she should have arrived by Tuesday at the latest. There are ten persons on the vessel.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10.—Regarding the visit to Europe of J. J. Hill of the Great Northern, it is asserted that having demonstrated the success of his venture in the Northern Steamship Co. on the Great Lakes, he now proposes to extend that service by placing a line of vessels, five in number, on the Pacific to connect with the Great Northern, sailing out of Seattle for China and Japan. Just before the war between China and Japan five splendid vessels were built on the Clyde, Scotland. Now these vessels are, it is said, for sale, and Mr. Hill may become their purchaser.

In trying to effect a landing the troops met with continuous firing from the shore and were forced to retreat with heavy losses. Capt. Bayano of the Cotopaxi, realizing the uselessness of his guns at the distance from Funtasua, turned his course to a point nearer Esmeraldas and began to shell the town effectively. Then he threatened a regular bombardment unless the rebels evacuated their position within twenty-four hours. At this junctive the Ranger, Watson of the Ranger landed immediately under a flag of truce and his wise counsel and friendly influence prevailing, the rebels quitted Esmeraldas and Capt. Bayano assumed possession. The rebels remain encamped in the vicinity. The revolution is everywhere gaining in Ecuador. Gen. Altaro has been proclaimed its leader. The rebel General, Bowen Holdes Babahoya, is on the Guayas, seventy miles from Guayaquil, with an army of 1,200 men.

INCOME TAX DECISIONS. The Belief Is That It Will Be Antagonistic to the Law. WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Supremo

Court premises are as completely deserted by the members of the court and the public as though the income tax had never come up to receive the attention of the court and attract visitors. It had been supposed that the court would go into immediate consultation after the conclusion of the argument in the case, but if there has been any consultation up to date it has not been held in the conference room at the Capitol.

Justice Jackson's position, while a matter of much speculative interest at this time, is apparently known to no one but himself unless he has found occasion within the is apparently known to no one but himself unless he has found occasion within the past day or two to acquaint some of his fellow members of the court with his views. There is little doubt entertained but that the court's decision will be announced next Monday week, and there can be no question of the general expectation in Washington that if will be antagonistic to the law as a whole, though for this opinion nothing in the nature of a definite fact as to the standing of members of the deciding tribunal is advanced.

NOT WITHOUT OPPOSITION. The New Pine Street Franchise Bill an

The bill introduced by Mr. Hagan in the Council Tuesday night, granting a franchise for a street railroad out Pine street and West Pine boulevard, is an old bill re-

Old One Bevived.

In March James F. Brady, August H. Ellers and Jeremiah Ryan attempted to incorporate the St. Louis, Kirkwood and Northwestern Railway Co., with a capital stock of $5,000. A protest was filed by Attorney George W. Taussig, acting for the St. Louis and Kirkwood Railway, against the use of the name. In consequence, the name was changed to the Pine Street, Kirkwood and Northwestern.

The bill granting the franchise to this company was introduced by Councilman Vallat at the last session of the Council, but it never came to a vote. West Pine street property owners held a meeting at the Mercantile Club and organized the West Pine Boulevard Protective Association and made vigorous objection to the passage of the ordinance. In consequence of this objection and because of the lateness of the introduction of the measure, it was passed over.

The ordinance introduced by Mr. Hagan is identical with the old bill, with the single exception that the right of way is to be given this time to the St. Louis Traction Co. This company is authorized to build and operate a double track electric railway, along a route printed in Thursday's Post-Dispatch.

James F. Brady, one of the organizers, claims that the city, according to the ordinance, will receive ample compensation for the franchise. When asked what his company would do as to the opposition of the Pine and West Pine property owners, he said that he hoped to conciliate them. He felt that a car line was needed out Pine street. street.
The West Pine Boulevard Protective Association will hold a meeting shortly and prepare another protest against the granting of the franchise.

E. Leighton, Daniel S. Holmes and Jacob Furth, all Republicans, of the Committee of Safety, have sent to Representative Selden P. Spencer a telegram protesting against the tabling of the indorsement of seventy-five members of the Committee of the Safety Committee bill. They say:

"Hon. Selden P. Spencer, Jefferson City, Mo.—On behalf of the Republican members of the Bafety Committee, we voice their surprise at your permitting their indorsement to be tabled instead of being printed for information, or referred to the Conference Committee.

"We are disappointed at this partisan spirit, This bill was framed distinctly on lines fully acceded to by you, when suggested by us before the Conference Committee, and has been regarded by us as fully meeting every demand at any time by all true Republicans."

Among the gentlemen who were subscribers to the indorsement referred to were the following named well known Republicans:

tells shout Frank Harrison, who had him arrested for assault, is vastly different from the one told by the latter.

According to Ford's version, Harrison has played a conspicuous part in his domestic affairs. Two years ago Harrison was boss of a gang of street cleaners. He hung around Ford's butcher shop at 708 O'Fallon street, and offered to teach Mrs. Ford shorthand. Shorthand was soon set aside and lovemaking began. When Ford noticed that all was not as it should be, he sold out his shop, so as to keep his wife away from temptation. She then, he says, appropriated some of his funds, went off with Harrison and opened a salcon. The salcon business was broken up by the interference of Mrs. Harrison, who appeared on the scene dissatisfied with her domestic affairs.

The woman is now keeping a cheap lodging house at 622 Morgan street, and Harrison is living there. Harrison has been arrested for carrying concealed wespons, and the case comes up next Monday. Mrs. Ford has her two children with her, which the father cannot get until he resorts to habeas corpus proceedings, which Gov. Johnson will conduct for him at the June term.

Ford has been married to his wife for eighteen years, and says he never had any trouble until Harrison appeared on the scene.

Dealers at the Union Market say that the warm weather is increasing the demand for vegetables and berries, but is having the revegetables and berries, but is having the reverse effect on the consumption of fresh meats of all kinds. Gardeners report an urgent need of rain in this vicinity, and that a few good showers would materially reduce prices. Peculiar Conduct of a 91-Year-Old Man.

Special to The Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, May 10 .- An old man, hardly able to walk, was taken before Justice Burke in the Essex Market Police Court to-day and committed to the Work-house to await the action of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction. The prisoner de-scribed himself as George Newman, aged 91 years. He said he had no home; no rela-tives, no money, no friends. He sat for twenty-eight hours on the steps of a house in East Houston street Tuesday evening. He had eaten nothing in that time and has eat-en little since. He says that there is no use doing anything for him, as he don't expect "to live to be more than a hundred years old." Burke in the Essex Market Police Court to pecial to The Post-Dispatch.

QUEBEC, May 10.—The "gold fever" in the Rainy Lake District of Canada is as suming enormous proportions. Eight small suming enormous proportions. Eight small sections of land in that country were sold two days ago for something over $250,000, with no mines opened on any of them. The purchasers were Americans, who are making arrangements for the immediate developments of their property. Reports of still richer finds upon an island in Big Manton Lake, which is connected with Rainy Lake, have got abroad. Miners and prospectors are rushing into this country by way of Duluth in large numbers, and if there is anything at all approaching the truth in what the most of them report of it, then it certainly contains some of the richest deposits of gold ever found.

ATTACKED BY AN EAGLE.

A Boy Seriously Injured Trying to Destroy Its Nest. UKIAH, Cal., May 10.-In Bachelor Valley. near this city, a big bald eagle has been recently destroying lambs on the ranch of J. B. Briggs. The latter's two sons, William, aged 12, and Edward, aged 8, climbed iam, aged 12, and Edward, aged 8, climbed the rocky crag where the eagle had its nest with a view to killing it and destroying the nest. The big bird fiercely attacked the younger boy with beak and talons. It destroyed the boy's left eye and injured the right, besides lacerating his head and face. The brother was powerless to render assistance and Eddie might have been much more seriously injured had not the boy's father arrived and driven off the eagle.

CARRIED AWAY TO SEA.

From Their Mother.

ecial to The Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, May 10.—Just before the Hamburg American liner Columbia backed out from her pler at Hoboken yesterday a shricking woman elbowed her way through the crowd. Her bonnet was gone, tears were streaming down her face and she was wring-ing her hands. Rushing to the edge of the pier, she shouted and waved her hands at the moving steamship, and as the great liner continued to move out into the stream she raved and tore her hair. Some bystanders seized her and kept her from falling off the pier. She tried to tell them what the matter was, but, while the Columbia was moving out into the river she was still incoherent. She was Mrs. Martha Schmidt of Cincinnati and her children were on the vessel and were being carried away to sea. So long as there was anything to be seen of the liner she wept and cried out for her little ones, and when the haze of smoke at the Narrows blotted out the Columbia the woman shrieked and tried to throw herself from the pier.

She was cared for and restrained by her countrymen, to whom she explained her plight. After a long while she went away. None knew her, but many told her story. The officials of the line had other troubles, for when the Columbia sailed they were assailed with hysterical gestures and polyglot profanity by nearly a hundred ticket holders to whom tickets had been sold by agents elsewhere, but for whom no accommodations remained on the ship. They are at the hotels, at the company's expense, waiting the next steamer out.

Sir Donald Horne McFarlane (Liberal) member for Argylishire, after receiving a reply to question as to when the Crofters bill would be taken up, threatened that the Scotch members would withdraw their support of the Government. This caused the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, to reply in a towering rage that it was open to the Scotch members to flo as they pleased. Thereupon Mr. Donald MacGregor (Liberal) member for Invernesshire retorted: "Are we to understand that the Government is going to show the white feather to the opposition!" ST. LOUIS, May 10.

The peculiar weather conditions shown by this morning's Signal Service map—cold to the freezing point in the West and summer heat in this vicinity and the East—makes it appear probable the breaking up of the long drought is at hand. Much cooler weather is assured and there are liable to be severe storms develop and sweep through the Central Valleys.

The Liverpool Corn Trade News says that the last reports from Russia which covered the period up to about the middle of April, show more favorable conditions than indicated by recent private advices, and, taken as a whole, the conditions were fairly satisfactory. airly satisfactory.

Latest mail advices from Europe are that in France conditions are satisfactory for the growing rop. In Italy better weather is reported with rospects promising. In Austro-Hungary the contition of winter wheat is said to be visibly im-prospects promising. In Austro-Hungary the condition of winter wheat is said to be visibly improving.

Oklahoma Weather Bureau reports crops doing well everywhere, owing to relief afforded by recent rains, but in central and western sections heavier rains are necessary to maintain the improvement. Much corn has been replanted, cotton planting is about finished, oats greatly improved and fruit is better than in any previous year.

The average exports from the principal shipping countries to Europe for the thirty-eight weeks ending April 20 have been 160,000 bu less per week than for the corresponding time last year.

San Francisco Journal of Commerce says reports concerning the condition of growing crops are most satisfactory. If nothing unusual happens the three coast States are expected to raise between 55,000,000 and 65,000,000 bu wheat.

The Paris Messenger of Commerce says that the prospects of the growing wheat crop are so favorable that but for the reduced area the outurn would be very heavy.

Some of the private reports from Germany indicate that a large percentage of the new crop is greatly damaged, and in some parts 50 per cent will be replowed.

Of 600,000 bu wheat received at Liverpool this dicate that a large percentage or the new croy is greatly damaged, and in some parts 50 per cent will be replowed.

Of 600,000 bu wheat received at Liverpool this week only 20 per cent was from this country. Some talk of frost to-night for Kansas, the territories and the Texas Panhandle, unless cloudy weather interefres.

Chicago reports 100,000 bu wheat bought for shipment to St. Louis. It may never get into St. Louis elevators, as was the case with that Peoria wheat, most of which sold to local and outside mills upon arrival here. Wheat receipts have been so liberal at seaboard markets this week—being that shipped from lake ports and coming by rail from Buffalo—that the prospects are the next visible decrease will be rather small.

This mornising country mail to commission men contained a great deal of bot, dry weather, bug and Tather small.

This morning's country mail to commission men contained a great deal of hot, dry weather, bug and damage literature. Such advices came from numerous sections of this State and Illinois, were rather plentiful from Kansas and some from Indiana and from south of the Ohio River. There were reports, also, that the hot forcing weather was heading wheat out with the plant only a few inches high, which would appear to indicate small head and a short yield. Reports were also heard that corn was not showing above ground in some sections, the seed not germinating owing to lack of moisture, and that oats growth was checked.

The area seeded to winter wheat last fall was 24,-224,000 acres, according to Government estimate, and on the April condition of 81.4 a crop of 290,-000,000 bu was indicated. The final yield of winter wheat last year was 238,000,000 bu.

Chicago wired that St. Louis reported 40,000 bu corn sold to go to Ohio and Indiana. Firms here who purchase for the seaboard say they have been buying corn in three States and below St. Louis prices, and they deride the idea of Ohio and Indiana buying corn in St. Louis. A sale of 10,000 bu No 2 white made yesterday is understood to be for Terre Haute, Ind., but the 40,000 bu for Ohio and Indiana is regarded with several barrels of salt.

There was, however, fear of frosts to-night in Kanssas and Turther South, if cloudy weather did not prevail. Fair Grounds Races Begin With a Good Lot.

THE INAUGURAL STARTERS.

A Twenty-Five Days Meeting Will Be Run With Good Purse and Stake Races Throughout.

The spring meeting of the St. Louis Pair Association will commence Saturday and continue for twenty-five days. Five or more races will be run each day, and from twe or three stakes are scheduled for each week. The added money to both the purse and stake races, compares favorably with that which is hung up by any of the Western Racing Associations and for that reason and the additional fact that the Fair Association is noted for its respectability and high standing, the owners of some of the best horses on the American turf are here with their stables.

The Fair Association classes with the Washington Park Jockey Club of Chicago and the Coney Island Jockey Club of New York, as one of the three strictly legitimate racing institutions in this country. Foreign books are not counternanced by these tracks, and each stands for the elevation and purification of the sport. Breeders, horse owners and like public recognize this fact and it is not exaggerating matters to say that commencing with to-morrow's campaign, St. Louis will have a season of racing that should rank with any given on the Western Circuit. In ISS.

Joseph J. Hurke will preside in the stand and his associate will be C. C. Pettus, who would be commencing with the commencing of the stand and his associate will be C. C. Pettus, who would be commencing with the commencing of the standard his associate will be C. C. Pettus, who starting for the first part of the meeting. He will handle the flag until J. B. Ferguson is able to get away from Harlem.

The latter place will race for two weeks, beginning to-morrow and then Mr. Ferguson comes to St. Louis.

John Hachmeister will officiate as scales clerk. Secretary Grynn moved his down town office to the track yesterday.

The racing programme for the first was made by Judge Burke. It calls for high class racing, catering to the best grade of horses at the track. The Inaugural will, of course, be the feature of the card to-morrow. It is a handicap sweepstakes for Eyear Colon and when the surface and with the second

At noon to-day it looks as though the field in to-morrow's big race will include the following horses:

J. G. Brown's b. c. Libertine, 4, by Leonatus-Faisaise, 112 (Macklin).

ST. ASAPH'S SCANDAL.

Owner and Jockey of Summertime and J. M. Hill Ruled Off.

EW YORK, May 10.-After hearing all ertime race at St. Asaph on May & the stewards of the Jockey Club at their meeting last night ruled off from all participation at all meetings under their auspices owner S. W. Street of Saratoga, Jockey Nacey of New York and J. M. Hill of Alexandria, Va., a part owner of the St. Asaph race course, and a man of considerable prominence in his own town.

The filly Summertime opened favorite for the dash for 2-year-olds at half mile on May 3 at St. Asaph, but the more money the public wagered on her the larger her price became in books controlled by J. M. Hill, who acted as Street's representative in the absence of the horseman at Saratoga. There was a disposition to shield J. M. Hill for a few days, but at a meeting on Wednesday last Nacey told the particulars of the race and Hill was implicated. Nacey said that Street had promised him 100 for each horse he pulled for him, and the Executive Committee of the Virginia Jockey Club ruled Street and Nacey off. Nothing, however, was said concerning Hill, and the jockey club after making Inquiries summoned all of the parties implicated to appear before them. Street protested his innocence to the last.

The cause of business humming, business boiling, sales swelling, merchandlse moving, making our store the busiest spot in St. Louis. Thanks to the people's confidence—which to us is a priceless jewel—we have earned it, and it is ours to guard and preserve as we would our personal honor—ours to protect as we would our business lives—a confidence that is beyond the reach of unscrupulous tricksters and catch-penny shams—we are overwhelmed with business, and puerile imitators might as well try to build pyramids on quicksands as to try and equal the broadside of bargains which we are pouring forth into the ranks of thousands of more than delighted patrons. Positively nothing offered but what is new and of this season's productions. To others we leave the task of foisting antedituvian goods on a deluded public.

TO-MORROW MORNING THE THROTTLE VALVE WILL AGAIN OPEN WIDE And will let out Steaming Values until 10 p. m. You and you and you invited to come and freely partake of the Good Things Offered!
